NEW SUBS LOWER TAX IN PALATINE

The total tax bill for Palatine township this year is $2,000 higher than a year ago. This increase will hardly be felt except by property owners in school districts 10 and 17, where an increase in the local tax rate of nearly 30c on each hundred dollars valuation was necessary. School district in their tax rate 15 dropped 28 points, to 1.84. This is the lowest it has been for several years. This reduction is partly due to the many subdivisions that have been opened up in that district, and which will pay taxes as lots for the first time this year. The total amount the Palatine grade school will receive is only $500 less than last year. The same thing is true in regard to the village. The total village tax is $500 more than last year, but the rate has dropped 13 points. The local tax bills are slightly lower than a year ago, which is good news for all property owners. The figures are as follows:

State	County	Forest Pres.	Town Tax	Palatine Vill.	Rd. & Bridge	Hard Roads	Pal. Hts. S.	Pal. Hts. N.

Says Realty Men Shift Highways to Suit Themselves

The blithe and carefree way in which real estate dealers shift the "superhighways" proposed for DuPage county around on their own maps so that one or all of them go through their properties has so aroused the ire of E. L. Gates, superintendent of highways for DuPage county, that he has issued an official note of warning to property owners. Here is Mr. Gates' cautionary communication: "It has come to our attention that a very serious menace and fraudulent practice is now in vogue among certain unscrupulous real estate operators, owners and subdividers in conveniently locating superhighways through their respective holdings. "This deception and misrepresentation to the buying public is not only a gross exaggeration of the facts, but is a situation that must be dealt with immediately, to protect the public from such fraudulent methods. "This practice is not only prevalent in DuPage county, but also in Cook county, where our three proposed routes will tie up with Cook county's continuation of them. "I wish to again call your attention to the only three authorized routes as laid out by the board of supervisors of DuPage county. "1. The southern route, to follow the line of 75th street from the Cook-DuPage county line to Aurora. "2. The center one, Butterfield road, which will connect with Washington boulevard, Roosevelt road, and 22d street, at the DuPage-Cook county line and follow the present route of Butterfield road west to connect with the Lincoln highway on the bank of the Fox river at or near Mooseheart. "3. The northern route, which has not yet been entirely laid out and determined, but which will connect with North avenue at the Cook-DuPage county line and extend in a westerly direction toward St. Charles. "I sincerely beg to issue this note of warning through your columns, as I believe it is an urgent public service, and earnestly request your co-operation in eliminating this dangerous practice."

Red Arrow Money To Bring $3,000.00 In Big Free Prizes

The customers of six Arlington Heights stores will participate in the awarding of $3,000 in merchandise prizes to be given away during the coming year by local Red Arrow club. The members of this club are Wettersman's Garage, Sieberg's Drug Store, Hills' Electric Shop, Gieseke's store, Reese Hardware Store, Bolte's Shoe Store. The plan of operation is simple. For every cash purchase the customer receives a like amount in Red Arrow money. This Red Arrow money is accepted in turn by any of the club members in the bidding for the prizes. Each prize is placed upon the auction block. The person who bids the highest in Red Arrow money gets the article. The stores are now receiving bids upon the articles they are offering. The rules governing the use of Red Arrow money is explained in a display advertisement in this issue.

THE FEATHER MATTRESS

W. H. P. Pomeroy will be in Arlington Heights on Wednesday, Feb. 9, to take orders for remaking your feather bed into a mattress or quilt. Address or Phone Ravenswood 6929.

Monday, Mar. 14, is Date of Next Health Clinic

Dr. H. H. Bay, medical examiner for the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, recently gave an address on the subject of "clinics" to the seniors in the Medical School of Northwestern University. Dr. Bay limited his subject to clinics for purposes of diagnosis only, rather than for treatment, with emphasis on tuberculosis clinics, explaining how this sort of clinic is conducted throughout Cook county at the various health centers of the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute. These are purely diagnostic and refer the patients to their own physicians for treatment. They are financed by Christmas seals. It was a favorable opportunity both for the doctor to acquaint the young medical men with an interesting field in public health service, and for the students to acquire knowledge of up to date clinical methods as provided by the Christmas seals in which everyone is now so much interested. Dr. Bay, assisted by Miss Jackson, conducted a free health clinic at the Arlington Heights health center Monday, March 14, at 11 a. m.

Mt. Prospect Chamber Of Commerce Hold Their First Banquet

The Mt. Prospect Chamber of Commerce held their first banquet in the Kruse restaurant, Thursday, Feb. 17, entertaining that evening Mr. Turpening, general superintendent of the C. & N. W. Ry., a representative from the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, and Victor Spiegler, president of the Des Plaines Lions club. Near fifty were present at the chief of police reported, there were 94 feet parked under the tables. Mr. Kruse and his efficient waiters did noble service. With good orchestra music and choice things to eat, it was a happy crowd of fellows who pushed back their chairs and listened to some inspiring pep-giving talks on the part of our visitors.

Our mayor, Hon. William Busse, acted as toastmaster. He outlined the progress that had been made by the Chamber of Commerce, assuring his hearers that he always had his shoulder to the wheel and was ready to push with the rest of the boys. He introduced Mr. Wilson, who is associated with the business extension department of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Wilson explained how great things are done with organizations and how easy they are accomplished when they are backed by such an organization as the Mt. Prospect Chamber of Commerce. "Harmony among boosters will always get results for the boosters," said Mr. Wilson.

The next speaker was Mr. Turpening, who aside from being one of the officials of the Northwestern railroad and therefore interested in the growth of the communities along its line, is also a large property owner of Mt. Prospect. He gave a short talk, in which he complimented Mr. Wilson upon the achievements of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce. He extended his best wishes for the like success of the Mt. Prospect Chamber of Commerce.

Victor Spiegler, president of the Des Plaines Lions Club, brought with him the greetings of the Des Plaines club to the local chamber of commerce, inviting the latter organization to be their guests at some future meeting. Upon the completion of the Northwestern highway thru Des Plaines, he promised that Des Plaines will shake hands oftener with Mt. Prospect.

Mr. Merrill, secretary of the Des Plaines Lions Club, made this suggestion for success, "Choose something big to accomplish and then go after it." He alluded to the work the Lions club was doing for the boy and girl scout organizations.

Rev. Mueller, pastor of the Mt. Prospect Lutheran church, was also a speaker. We have always realized that our pastor thinks a lot about Mt. Prospect but we never knew how much he was really wrapped up in its success until we heard him talk that evening. He also showed that a good minister can say a lot of humorous things as well as talk in a serious vein.

Albert Kille, the president of the chamber of commerce, never claimed to be a speaker, but he showed that evening that he was right there just the same. The banquet adjourned by Secretary Bierman leading the audience in singing the national song.

Speeder Runs Down Des Plaines Motor Cop, Injury Serious

Officer Wm. Schwartz of the Des Plaines police department, near death's door at St. Francis hospital. The speeding autoist who caused his injury escaped. With Officer Ray Rowan, the two men were in chase of a speeder on Mannheim road. Drawing alongside of the speeder, Schwartz got out of his car and ordered the other car to stop. In some manner the policeman was run down. It was necessary to lift the car off the injured man. The driver promised to drive to the police station, while Rowan cared for his fellow officer. This he did not do and there is no trace of his identity. The injured man was taken to a physician and later in the Oehler ambulance to the hospital, where the physicians report small hopes for his recovery.

YEAR OF HOME BUILDING SAY CONTRACTORS

Interviews with the building contractors of Arlington Heights and Palatine give assurance that 1927 is going to be a year of home building in both towns. At present there are no new store buildings under contract in Arlington Heights, but there are no less than fifteen homes for which the village clerk has issued permits.

Bungalows of brick construction appear to be the most popular. The four that have been erected by the C. M. Behrens Co. on North Dunton street are near completion. Mr. Behrens expects to start work upon five more within a few weeks.

Building in Arlington Heights News to Chicago People

Village Clerk McElhose receives frequent inquiries from Chicago newspapers and association as to the building outlook in the City of Good Neighbors for 1927. Mr. McElhose does not make any guesses, but the figures in the building permit department tell their own story. The average cost of the houses to be erected is near $10,000.

Landscape Activity

The Arlington Landscape Service report a large book of orders for this spring. The man who builds a home today does not want to spend many of his summer recreational hours in the development of landscape work about his home. It is here that the Arlington Landscape service is able to relieve him of that work and worry. Mr. Klehm says that more and more of the small house owners are taking advantage of such service. Among the contractors of this firm for spring work is the landscaping of the Kedeker cemetery in Euclid avenue.

Village Clerk T. C. Hart of Palatine says that he thought surely spring had arrived Tuesday morning, not that he had seen any robins or planted any of those early peas but from the fact that before 9 a. m. he had issued three building permits and before noon had been visited by the representative of a firm of architects who are planning ten houses for the Meadows south side subdivision and by a builder who proposes to build several houses in the east subdivisions as soon as the improvements are in.

N. W. Improvement Association asks for Reduction in Fares

The Amalgamated Northwest Improvement association, which was formed for the purpose of promoting the interests of the Wisconsin Division suburban communities as the initial steps at their last meeting for new paved roads, lower train fares and representation upon the Chicago Board of Local Improvements.

The following topics were on the floor for discussion by the delegates from the various affiliated organizations:

The county board is to be asked to pave Talcott Road from Higgins Road to Deer Road.

Attorney General Carlstrom is going to be asked to appear before the association and enter the fight of the case of the people of Illinois vs. the C. N. & W. R. R. to have the commuter rates reduced along the Wisconsin Division of the above railroad.

A motion was made by James E. Evans that the state and city board of local improvements be called upon urging them that it is absolutely necessary to public safety to drain and fill in the dangerous ditches running along Higgins Road.

A resolution was adopted thanking the Chicago Safety Council for the removal of "suicide post" at Higgins and Harlem Avenues.

A committee of ten men, of which James W. Hamilton was appointed to call on the Mayor to secure an appointment from him to select a man from this association to fill one of the vacancies on the Board of Local Improvements. To help on the Avondale Ave. project.

New Movies for Palatine Theatre

Wm. C. Brockhoff, of Chicago, an experienced moving picture operator has leased the Seip Auditorium at Palatine and will produce at that theatre some of the latest releases in the photoplays. He gave the first show last Sunday Mr. Brockhoff says that he has heard that Palatine people are not movie fans. He does not believe that report to be correct and attributes the lack of previous display of interest to the fact that the public was not given the kind of pictures it desired.

One of the pictures to be shown next week is "Faust" which was shown in a Chicago loop last week and is not released to outlying theatres until next week. Mr. Brockhoff will operate continuous. The Sunday show starts at 3:00 o'clock and runs until 10:30. The week day shows will start at 7:00 o'clock. The public will be kept informed of the program thru the advertising columns of this paper.

Miss Margartha J. Claussen died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Alma Storch, Des Plaines. Funeral was held Tuesday, March 1st.

Our Pet Peeve

Home Talent Musical Comedy Proves a Scream

It has been many weeks since Palatine people have had the opportunity to enjoy so many good laughs as was theirs this week at "The Land of the Honeymoon." This musical comedy was shown three nights at the Auditorium under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church. The amateur actors more than met the expectations of the audiences. This was especially true of the comedians, Mildred Zoflick and Stanley Beckman, and a real comfort and help to Grandpa Crawford (John V. Beatty). Their love making is one of the places where you'll feel like laughing, and perhaps crying. Mrs. McBride has had considerable experience and knows how to really live her part. The two "old folks" are very important characters in the play, and carry the responsibility for the younger folks at the same time they have their own problems.

Leslie Moody, playing with Vera McElhose, is also one of the newer members. He takes the part of Dr. Jimmie Reed, who marries Flo for her money and isn't satisfied with his bargain. Orin Neville takes the part of Grandpa's ward. This is Orin's first appearance in Arlington Heights. He is well chosen for the part.

The other players are: Annabel Cordula, Marvin Preberg, Nettie Bunn, Stewart Alden, and Floyd Do bins. Tickets are for sale by Tri-Sigma members, and at the A & P stores and at Rubens'. Seats will be reserved for both nights at Rubens', and the charts are ready now. The money realized from this play will be used to help build the new Community House.

New High School Increase Taxes In Leyden Twp.

Wm. F. Winkelman, tax collector of Leyden township, is mailing out tax bills this week. This township, which is one of the largest in point of taxes, of the Northwest suburbs, entails a lot of work in the preparation of the bills and the collection of the money.

The books call for the collection of about $350,000. The large number of subdivisions, which are still in the ownership name of the subdividers presents the collection of a part of such taxes. However the local tax payers realize the advantages to be gained by paying to the home collector and will do so.

Peter Beyer Would Transport California Weather to Heights

Peter Beyer, of Arlington Heights is having a good time in LosGatos, California. We reprint the following from a letter received by the Herald from Mr. Beyer, which will be interesting to his many friends "back home."

LosGatos, Calif., Feb. 23, 1927. Editor Herald:—I enclose the weather report of LosGatos, together with the opinion of a medical Journal as regards the climate of LosGatos (The latter reads, "the most equable is to be found in two places, Assan, Egypt and LosGatos, Calif.") I wish you were here and could see how nice and green everything looks. Roses and all the other flowers are blooming in spite of rain storms we have had in January. Apricots will be in blossom next week and then comes the prunes. I am fine in this climate and wish you had such weather at Arlington Heights.

Palatine Eastern Star To Celebrate Twentieth Birthday, March 11th

Palatine Chapter No. 585, O. E. S. will be twenty years old on March 11. The event will be properly celebrated with a birthday party, in which the entertainment will be provided by Chicago enter-tainers. The Star gives a public luncheon and card party in the Palatine Masonic building, March 10th. Admission is 50c, which includes refreshments. Weekly luncheon parties are being given by the officers club.

Tri-Sigma Play to be Given Two Nights

Because of the big demand for tickets already evidenced for tickets for "The Path Across the Hill," the Tri-Sigma has decided to give the play March 15 and 17. This is Tuesday and Thursday. Rehearsals have revealed some new talent among the players, and some of them will be seen on a stage in Arlington Heights for the first time.

One of these new players is Mrs. McBride who takes the part of Grandma Davis, a real comfort and help to Grandpa Crawford (John V. Beatty). Their love making is one of the places where you'll feel like laughing, and perhaps crying. Mrs. McBride has had considerable experience and knows how to really live her part. The two "old folks" are very important characters in the play, and carry the responsibility for the younger folks at the same time they have their own problems.

Leslie Moody, playing with Vera McElhose, is also one of the newer members. He takes the part of Dr. Jimmie Reed, who marries Flo for her money and isn't satisfied with his bargain. Orin Neville takes the part of Grandpa's ward. This is Orin's first appearance in Arlington Heights. He is well chosen for the part.

The other players are: Annabel Cordula, Marvin Preberg, Nettie Bunn, Stewart Alden, and Floyd Do bins. Tickets are for sale by Tri-Sigma members, and at the A & P stores and at Rubens'. Seats will be reserved for both nights at Rubens', and the charts are ready now. The money realized from this play will be used to help build the new Community House.

Arlington Heights- California Society Hold Annual Picnic

All is well among the Arlington Heights people in California. H. F. Redeker received this week a photograph of the annual picnic of the Arlington Heights society, which was held in Sycamore Grove Los Angeles, Feb. 12. This reunion is of special interest to Arlington Heights folks this year because there are a number of "Arlington Heights regulars" who are spending a few weeks in sunny California. Among them we note Mr. and Mrs. Howard Helm, Mrs. Redeker and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Wichman.

Among the members of the Arlington Heights colony who have joined it the past year are Mr. and Mrs. Nick Volk, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Helmkin. Evidently our friend, Peter Beyer missed the picnic as we do not see his smiling face in the picture.

Among the "regulars" we note the Allisons, the Chapmans, the Fords, the Dietrichs, L. G. Helm, Rev. Ellerbe, and sister, Fred Helm, Lutges and a whole lot more good looking people, whose faces we do not recognize. There were over sixty people present at the picnic all of whom are in the picture. Mr. Redeker has the picture on display at his office and will be pleased to have any one interested examine it.

Mrs. Redeker writes that she and her daughter spent two days with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Helmkin. They were taken to orange and lemon groves and orange packing plant. They also went to the place of Ed. Kurber, who has a nice rabbit ranch and showed them many pretty mansions and hills. They were also taken to Long Beach and viewed the Pacific Ocean. The Helmkins have a very fine place, surrounded with flowers and enjoy upon their own table, oranges from their own trees.

Start Work on First Store Building In New Business Dist.

Palatine is to have a new business district, six blocks from the "loop." The first store building will be a two story brick at the corner of Chicago Ave. and the Northwest highway. Geo. Stange of Melrose Park is reported to have paid $12,000 for the northeast corner and will erect a building corner a like amount. Contractor Swanson has the contract and has commenced building operations. The new building will have a corner store and another facing the highway. There will be an eight room flat on the second floor. Mr. Stange says that he expects there will be a new business district established along Chicago avenue and the highway and he intends to be in on the ground floor. He will establish a food shop.

Invest $25,000 in New Filling Station And Restaurant on Rand

The Arlington Heights triangle piece at Palatine and Rand roads has been sold for a reported consideration of $1,000 and according to the Laude, Milk Realty organization, which had charge of the deal, upwards of $20,000 will be invested in two filling stations and a restaurant, both of which have already been rented for a period of three years. This tract was owned by the Johnston Realty Co. of Wilmette and consists of 7 1/2 acres. A steam shovel is already at work on the excavating, which must be completed by March 12. The buildings will be completed and ready for occupancy by May 1st. A deep well and electrical equipment are included in the contract.

KNOW ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

This is the first of a series of articles about Arlington Heights prepared to better acquaint our readers with their home town.

THE MORS' BAKERY

There are many interesting places in Arlington Heights which we are aware of in a matter of fact way but about which the average citizen actually knows very little. Such a place is the Mors Bakery. It is fitting that we start our series of "Know Arlington Heights" articles with this pioneer industry as a subject.

There has been a Mors Bakery in Arlington Heights for forty eight years, and for nearly a half century they have been at this same location on the near north side. Some of our older residents will no doubt be able to recall to memory some of the good things which were obtainable at this shop in years gone by. Cakes and cookies in shapes and flavors that are but a memory and the original made-in-Arlington Heights ice cream which was dispensed as a Sunday delicacy in water ichters or whatever the customer supplied as a container. I could name several prominent citizens who would answer to the question: What do you best remember about the Mors Bakery of years ago? who would reply, "Those home baked peanuts."

Peanuts it seemed played an important role in the early political and social life of this community. But "The old order changeth" and today we find the bakery a most important factor in community life not for peanuts but for our very sustenance. More and more the housewife of today is putting away her tins and letting the baker do the baking.

It is the purpose of this article to take our readers behind the scenes into the workshop of this institution. You will recall that something was happening in Mors' back yard last spring. You were conscious of the huge steam shovel as it worked at this place removing hundreds of loads of ground which were dumped free of charge in the public parks about the station, you took for granted that something was happening in Mors' the building arose you assumed and conjectured without perhaps caring that the old bakery was making extensive improvements.

Come with the writer into the bakeshop and you will get an inkling of how extensive these improvements were to be. The proprietor's pride in his workshop was not to be canceled as he conducted us thru his plant and carefully explained the various operations necessary to complete his products. The photograph in the bakery window is but a cool representation of the gigantic oven installed in the rear of this modest little store. We learned that it took six skilled oven builders four weeks to construct this oven, that over thirty men six thousand special brick went into its walls which rest upon a foundation of concrete twelve feet thick. That it provides insulation which keeps the perfect baking a day after the fires are extinguished. These ovens are heated by coke fires located in the basement so arranged that it is impossible for any coal dust or ashes to get into the workshop above. Shower baths located in the basement for use of the employees before they go to work and after they are done is but partial evidence of the completeness of the sanitary scheme of things here.

The floors in the workshop proper are scrubbed daily and you feel that better baking conditions are hard to conceive of. In fact the State Bakery Inspector in a recent unannounced visit pronounced this shop one of the most sanitary in the entire state, that it was unusual to find a plant of this calibre in a town of this size. This community will share with the proprietor a just pride in this statement. The quality is not all in the equipment. For we were shown the flour room where two carloads of a well known brand were stored, flour which cost more money than that used by the average bakery.

A cooling room in the basement for butter and lard and a neatly arranged fruit cellar whetted the writers appetite for butter buns and such.

Much of the actual labor of preparing the various doughs for the ovens is done by mechanical means there being an electric flour sifter, cake mixer and bread mixer, and the food stuffs are practically untouched by human hands prior to baking.

This shop employs three bakers who are specialists in bread and cake making. To supply Arlington Heights and the rapid growing wholesale trade these bakers work in shifts and the shop is in operation practically day and night.

"Equipped to feed a metropolis" is not an idle advertising slogan. The Peterson Ovens at the Mors Bakery will bake 5000 loaves of bread in ten hours. With this capacity Mr. Mors expects to be able to care for the increasing growth of Arlington Heights for some time to come and feels that he is equipped to compete with the Chicago bakers as a wholesale knowing that in purity and goodness to products of his shop are hard to beat.

An Alabama man is reported to have tried in vain to commit suicide. He should have borrowed a drink of moonshine or walked carelessly across the street.

LAST BASKET BALL GAME ON MONDAY

The Arlington Heights basketball team will make their last appearance on their own floor this year next Monday night when they will lock horns with Libertyville. The home team will have its first opportunity in a month to play before a friendly crowd. This unusual date for a conference game was made necessary on account of the conference tournament last week and district conference next week.

Arlington Heights has a slight advantage over Libertyville having been victors in previous games by close scores. However they realize that the third time is uncertain and most anything is liable to happen. There will be two games. The lights go out at 7:30. Be there and give the home boys a send off for the tournament and expression of appreciation for their work in the conference.

Fate Keeps Apart Palatine and Arlington Heights

In the drawings for the district tournament to be held at Libertyville next week, fate decreed that Palatine and Arlington Heights will not meet. Arlington Heights will first play Wauconda; the winner of the game playing Gurnee, with New Trier as the probable adversary for the third game.

Palatine will play Libertyville; Antioch will play the winner of that game and probably Deerfield-Shields for the third game. There is no question but that both Palatine and Arlington Heights are disappointed that they will not meet again this year.

Four More Victories For Grammar Schools

Heavies
Arlington 22, Villa Park 5.
Arlington 16, Lombard 4.

Lights
Arlington 30, Villa Park 4.
Arlington 4, Lombard 2.

Thursday, February 17 and Saturday, Feb. 26, were the dates when the grammar schools added to its honor four more victories.

Two weeks ago Thursday night (due to a little mix up in dates) Lombard grammar school came here unexpectedly, to play the Arlington teams.

After a hustle and a tussle of trying to get the players together the first game started about 7:30 p. m. Lombard anxious to return home early wanted the playing time of the lights cut short, and this was granted but nevertheless Arlington came out on top, winning by the score of 4 to 2.

The heavies must have been stunned by the surprise, because they played a very poor game of basketball, but from the looks of the score, Lombard played a still poorer game.

Last Saturday evening, Villa Park, a school with an enrollment of more than twice that of Arlington came here to play the two grammar school teams. Regardless of the number they have to pick from Arlington took both games without very much difficulty.

From the score it looks as though Villa Park might be a small school but oh, the nice big fellows they have to play on their teams, this shows that size does not account for all.

The light weight game was a white from start to finish showing some real basketball played by boys averaging 85 pounds.

The heavies played a somewhat slower game, but piled up a score of 22 points leaving Villa Park with only 5.

One more game is to be played out of town and then the boys will attend an invitation tournament to be held at Glen Ellyn, Ill.

The doctor still maintains his Arlington Heights office but will remain closed temporarily during the injunction pending in court. Rev. and Mrs. Lewis Naus of Glencoe were the guests at the home of Rev. E. A. Naus Sunday.

Miss Ella Hitzeman and Miss Sals of the Lutheran hospital of Chicago spent Thursday with friends and relatives.

Elmer Cooper was called to Patoka, Ind., on account of the illness of his grandmother. We are pleased to announce this week that Mr. H. B. Schmidt, former manager of the Roselle Farmers Co-op. Elevator Co., has taken and active interest with Mr. Albert J. Jahnke, in the real estate game. The new firm will be known as Albert J. Jahnke & Co., with their main office in the Nixon Building, Chicago to render with their office in Roselle. These two hustling fellows are aiming to boost Roselle property.

Both being very well known, and should receive support of those interested in making Roselle a bigger and better town.

For Schuster and Shoe Repairing try J. E. Troyke at Bensenville.

A. E. Troyke & Son are now equipped with a disc sharpener, which does not require that the disc be taken apart. The machine will hold a section at a time.

Feb. 27th, A. E. Troyke celebrated his 71st birthday. Those present at the celebration were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weinrich and family, Arlington Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Troyke and family of Lombard; Miss Selma Troyke of Arlington Heights; Miss Anna Troyke of Evanston; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Troyke of River Forest; Mr. H. Schroeder of Arlington Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Schrarlan and son of Roselle. A pleasant time was had by all.

The play presented by the local A. L. L. was witnessed by two full houses.

This play was a comedy, very humorous and the ridiculous situations it presented kept the crowd in continuous laughter. The cast selected was very good, and the play was well presented. We should not know who to select as the "star", because each and every one was a "star" from the head of the cast down to the orchestra, which entertained during scenes and acts. By the way, these young folks have their own orchestra also. It was a fine entertainment, much enjoyed by the large audiences. We understand that more than 500 people attended these performances.

HIGGINS-CANFIELD

Good People Make a Good Town

It seems self evident that the reputation of the town is simply the reputation of the people. It is unfortunate, however, that the bad reputations of people are usually so much more conspicuous than the good ones, that the town is often judged by its less representative citizens.

We need, therefore, to make known the good people of the village in order to build the kind of village character we want.

Hundreds of strangers are coming here to buy property and to make homes. They quickly pick up the spirit of the town by a few inquiries among its citizens. Let's tell these folks about the good people we have. Let's tell them what the people have done for themselves both individually in making beautiful homes and collectively in providing church, educational, entertainment, library, and athletic facilities.

Maybe we can improve our own actions, too. It isn't so nice to talk about our individual shortcomings, but every time you improve your own character, you improve the character of the town.

If you are breaking some important law, either carelessly or because of immunity, a determination to stop will become a real community asset.

Perhaps this last idea doesn't sound important. But there are actually a whole lot of local people who break laws—such ones as: parking laws, gambling laws (playing games with money stakes), liquor laws, health laws, and others.

Maybe our village officers can help in this respect by enforcing these laws in every case instead of in only the most noticeable cases. Maybe they can help by adhering strictly to these laws in their own personal conduct.

Do We Need a Hospital?

There is no hospital in any town between here and Chicago. Many hospital cases develop in Arlington Heights in the course of a year. Very few are taken to Palatine, whose hospital is not much larger than is needed for local demands. Wouldn't it be a good thing for Arlington Heights to have a hospital?

A splendid building is even now available—the Draper home. It is a spacious, well-built house located where quiet and pleasant surroundings are both available to a wonderful degree.

It sets back from the road far enough so that patients would not be disturbed by traffic. It is high enough to be naturally well drained. It has immense flower gardens and a lawn ample enough for all convalescing patients.

The one drawback is that small hospitals seldom pay a real profit to the owner. Perhaps, for that reason, a hospital should be a community institution. This is an idea to be considered anyway.

V. F. W. Dance at the Dalebrook Big Success

Mr. Frank Baldwin, better known as Frank the barber was the lucky man to win the $75 suit of clothes donated by the V. F. W. Prospect Post No. 1327, at the dance Feb. 19. This idea was originated by our new commander, Wm. Genrich. Commander Genrich needs no introduction. His good deeds for the post speak for themselves. Mr. Holste who was chairman of the committee also deserves a few compliments or another (stripes), for the way this affair was handled. Mr. Holste being the father of the organization or the originator of this post, is an experienced hand at such affairs. The new adjutant, Mr. John Gerken has proven himself as the head ticket salesman. The post wishes to thank Mrs. Daly for the co-operation during this dance. And as to Nick's musical entertainers our hats come off to all you players.

A "Religious Clinic"
At Arlington Heights
Methodist Church

A new departure is being made next Sunday in the Methodist church. A "religious clinic" will be held every Sunday evening until Easter. The pastor will seek to answer from the pulpit all questions relating to life and religion which are asked by the audience. At these Sunday evening services there will be a peppy song service, from new song books produced especially for this purpose.

Following the clinic there will be either a short gospel sermon or a "Book Sermon" seeking to bring the religious message from some popular book. At some of these services there will be other special features from out of town talent.

The old fashioned prayer meeting used to give people a chance to express themselves and ask questions, and nothing seems to be taking the place of it. It is hoped therefore that this service will be of benefit in filling the gap.

Lutherans Champion
Bible

It is interesting to note that the Lutheran church obligates its pastors to preach the so-called fundamental doctrines of the Bible.

The candidate for the ministry, at the time of his ordination, is asked the question, "Dost thou believe the canonical books of the Old and New Testaments to be the inspired Word of God, and the only infallible rule of faith and practice?" and

"Dost thou hold and profess the doctrine of the Evangelical Lutheran church as laid down in the Symbols contained in the Book of Concord—to be the true doctrine of the Holy Scriptures?"

To both of these questions he is expected to answer, "I do so hold and profess." Should any Lutheran minister fail to live up to this confession, he is not permitted to continue in the employ of the church.

The Lutheran church therefore, through its ministers, champions the cause of the bible. It earnestly contends for the doctrines that the bible is God's ultimate revelation, that man is not a polished animal but a fallen saint, that Christ is the eternal Son of God born of a virgin, that heaven or hell is the final destiny of man depending on his acceptance or rejection of Christ, and that saving faith is engendered in the heart of man by the Holy Ghost through the means of the Gospel and the Sacraments.

Death and After
Lutherans teach that the body, which in death is separated from the soul, will be raised on the last day and reunited with the soul; that all men will be judged by Jesus Christ; that all believers in Christ will be given eternal life in heaven, while all unbelievers will be sent into eternal condemnation.

Sin
Lutherans teach that every thought, word, and deed contrary to God's law is sin; that every human being is a sinner by birth; that all evil in the world is the consequence of man's sinning; and that sin is wholly damnable.

St. Paul's Walthers League of Niles Center were guests of Evanston Walthers League Thursday evening, Feb. 24.

Niles Center's new city hall is a large 2 story substantial edifice that will do credit to this growing city for many years to come. It is practically fireproof well lighted from all sides has plenty room for all city offices including both court rooms and jail to afford everybody justice. We shall be glad to publish a picture of this handsome public building when it is finished.

Now, during this dry spell, is the best time of all the year to burn up rubbish especially those numerous weed patches in and around the village. They are not only an eyesore but a menace to adjacent property.

If the really owners of the many uncultivated lands in Niles township would have their vacant lands seeded down to alfalfa the weeds would soon be rooted out and the neat green lots would attract prospective buyers and sell at better prices. The owners would have no further expense as many owners of horses and cattle would be glad to harvest the alfalfa three times and pay for the crop leaving a neat green field.

Walthers League Convention

The third annual convention of the Northern Illinois District of the Walthers League was held at LaGrange Saturday and Sunday, February 26 and 27. St. Paul's Walthers League of Niles Center was duly represented by two delegates Florence Schurke and Theresa Schweitzer, and two alternates Alma Lohrke and Alma Lohrke who will bring home the news.

Several other leaguers from our local society were also present Sunday.

The convention program was as follows:

Saturday session opened at 2 p. m. Sectional conferences at 5 p. m. Election of district officers at 5:30 p. m.

400 leaguers were present at the banquet at 6:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple. There were many interesting speakers. A high class trio of radio fame furnished the music. This trio also accompanied all Walthers League songs, which were sung with a very happy spirit. There were yells given by each zone with much vim. It was, indeed, a pleasure to witness the presence of such a host of young Christians. The following courses were served:

Fruit Cocktail Supreme, Celery, olives, salted nuts, young roast stuffed chicken, snowflake mashed potatoes, sifted peas in cream, lettuce salad with thousand island dressing, rolls, apple or cherry pie, coffee or milk.

Sunday service was held at the Cossitt School auditorium at 10:30 a. m.

Dinner was served at 1 o'clock. Afternoon session commenced at 2:00 o'clock. This meeting adjourned after exactly four hours and four minutes of very interesting, as well as educational discussion, our delegates taking notes during this entire period.

In the evening Prof. A. Beck of River Forest featured an organ concert, assisted by St. John's choir of LaGrange. This was enjoyed immensely by all present.

St. Peter's Evangelical Church

The sacred concert last Friday given by the Elmhurst College Glee club and sponsored by the Y. P. L. surely was a success. Everybody seemed to be well pleased. Director Minima promised they would do even better if we will have them again in a year or two. Judging from how the singers enjoyed the refreshments after the concert. They will surely be glad to come to Niles Center again.

Sunday morning, March 6, we will have our first Lenten service in English and German in the evening, beginning at 7:30. May the Lord kindle a strong desire in many hearts to come and hear what our dear Saviour has done for us.

Jerusalem Luth. Church

Messrs. Geo. Voss and Carl Eckhardt represented the Morton Grove Walthers League Society at the Walthers League convention at LaGrange, Feb. 26. They report about 2000 young people attended. Aside from the regular business meetings in which the various activities of the league all being of a beneficial nature, such as the Wheat Ridge Sanitarium at Denver, Col. The different hospices in the large cities of our country, the broadcasting station at St. Louis Seminary, etc., were discussed, fine entertainments had been arranged for the visitors, such as good speeches, instrumental and vocal music. The boys are full of praise of the good time they had.

But there was one thing however, which almost knocked the joy out of the whole thing. The boys parked their car as others did, in front of the convention hall. The police at LaGrange rather provincially thought that ought not to be an when the boys returned to their car after the meeting they found a ticket. Of course the boys being good abiding citizens saw the chie and expected nothing else than $1 and costs. However when they appeared before the chief and the worthy personage learned who Vos and Eckhardt were and that they were citizens of Morton Grove, wa n no small degree flustered and disturbed, fell all over himself t make excuses for the grievous offense his lieutenants had committed in handing so worthy and honorable personages a "dirty" ticket and hoped that sometime opportunity would present itself where he could make amends. The boys assured him of their good will and returned home in good spirits.

The ladies aid bunco party Saturday evening was well attended. Many prizes were distributed.

The young people's society will hold their regular business meeting this Friday evening, March 4. Those of the young people contemplating to join the society are asked to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Jettie H. Hitchcock

IN MEMORIAM
It would be wrong to wish her back
For she has suffered so,
Her poor worn frame tortured with pain—
So long upon the rack
We would not wish her back again
Like some bright, fragile flower
Torn by the raging wind
She longed to see
The day when she might be
Leaving her house of clay behind,
Eternally set free.

All who knew Mrs. Hitchcock most intimately know the deep anguish of her suffering. Many of us did not understand. We only know she suffered. We also know her firm deep faith, when sustained and kept her heart brave thru loss of her loved ones, and physical pain.
She kept her love too, for the bright and the beautiful things of earth. She kept interest in her church, her club and her friends. Never robust or able to engage in active occupations, and for the past 12 years—since the death of her husband often alone, and without companionship; who knows "how deep were the waters crossed or through what ordeals of loneliness her supersensitive mind was called to pass. She came to me as none other came, gentle and with understanding, when sorrow bore upon me. Through all the years and until her self unable to call, she would send me words of appreciation, over the telephone. To me she meant so much. When her life companion was taken from her side, it was my privilege to put into her hand, a word of hope in verse. This she would not trust out of her keeping. It comforted her, and she cherished the lines, always keeping them in her Bible; from them I quote: As I do feel to do this would be the wish of my loyal friend.

I do believe—God will not take The Spirits which he gave—and make Them glorified—so new That they are lost to me and you—I do believe, they will receive Us—you and me, and be so glad To meet us, that when I would grow sad I just begin to think about that day.
And I grow glad . . .
God never made—Spirit for Spirit Answering shade to shade— And placed them side by side So wrought in one, Though, separate, mystified And meant to break The quivering threads between, When we shall wake, I am quite sure we will be very glad That for a little while we were so sad.

Next Week's Pictures At Arlington Theatre

"The Last Trail"
Nebuchadnezzar, the saddest bound in the world, adds a lot of laughs to "The Last Trail," Fox Films version of Zane Grey's novel starring Tom Mix and coming to the Arlington theatre, Saturday March 5.
The story centers about an Arizona mining camp, where desperadoes have made stage robbing one of the principal industries. Robert Brower has the role of a deputy sheriff who owns Nebuchadnezzar, a bloodhound that has a "nose" for tracking desperadoes.
William Davidson plays the role of Morley, Carmelita Gerahity is Nita Carol, the feminine lead.
"Rose of the Tenements"
A screen play that teaches a moral lesson as strikingly as any sermon preached from the pulpit is what the critics credit "Rose of the Tenements" which comes to the Arlington theatre Sunday, November 6.
It is an F. B. O. Gold Bond special and the adaptation is from J. Moroso's story of "The Stumbling Herd."
Shirley Mason has the stellar role, that of the girl and Johnny Harron that of the boy. The supporting cast constitutes a perfect personnel and the direction by Phil Rosen, who directed "Abraham Lincoln" is flawless.

Former Arlington Heights Resident Dies at DesPlaines
Miss Margaretta Clausen, age 68 years, a former resident of Arlington Heights, and a sister of Mrs. Storck, of the Madison house, died Sunday at her home in DesPlaines. The funeral was held Tuesday with interment in the Acacia cemetery on Irving Park Boulevard.

Mrs. J. D. Kinney, of Alton, State conservation chairman will preside assisted by Mrs. Chas. J. Caldwell, past state chairman and Mrs. Theron Colton well known naturalist, who has charge of the program. Mrs. McKinney is offering a prize to 8th grade pupils of the state for the best essay of not more than 500 words on "Birds." Names of prize winners will be announced at the convention at Danville in May.

Mrs. Walter W. Seymour, state president will be guest of honor. The state board planned this event as the concert for the benefit of out of town board members who will be in attendance the 9th and 10th at the annual March state board meeting.
Spring Concert
A Spring concert by all women artists rendering a program by all-American composers is the annual musical offering by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs March 11 at 8:15 in Orchestra hall. This will be the premier concert of an annual event. The Federation fosters music as one of its departments, and urges clubs to put on programs featuring American and in so far as possible Illinois composers, but this is the first thing of the kind put on by the state federation. The plan has already borne fruit. Clubs not prepared to take part in the March concert of '27 are forming choruses in anticipation of the concert of '28. Mrs. Jackson has received assurances from American composers that the contemplated concert has proved an incentive to musicians; that they can do the work if there is a promise of production. It is whispered that there may be an opera especially composed by a prominent woman American for next year's concert.

As being apropos of this all-woman musical project, the Chicago Woman's Symphony Orchestra has been secured. This orchestra came into being three years ago, playing its first engagement for the First Woman's World Fair. Open bowling Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday
LADIES INVITED

The Arlington Five rolled Niles Center at the Arlington alleys last night. A return game will be rolled Saturday night at Niles Center and Sunday they roll the Schultz Baking Co. of Chicago. A week later the great Palatine game will be rolled. Harris and Oltrogge would like to install a line of bleachers over the alleys for the latter game.

Tuesday League
The Jewelers took three games from the Elevators, and say that any order that Schne may put in for Kopper's Koke for next season's delivery will not do him any good this season. The Jewelers have a lead of ten games and think they can afford to make any wise cracks that come to their minds.

The Peoples Bank with a total of 2986, took two games from the Koehler Tailors. This score is the highest score of the season.

The Blatz boys took two games from the Sweet Shop in scores that were not particularly noteworthy.

Monday's League
The A. B. C. captured three more games Monday night from the Mike Casey bunch. This makes ten straight games for the club boys. They say that it is not because they are any better bowlers than they were a few weeks ago. It is because they have broken the jinx that was giving them all the bad breaks in the earlier games.

The Kehe Motor service further cinched their right to first place by winning three straight from the "Idle Barbers." There is a whispering about the alleys that Kehe is bootlegging strikes out from Chicago in his truck. They are at least rather free with them in recent games.

The Cement Works, following in the footsteps of the other two winning teams of Monday night, also captured three straight games from their opponents, the Chevrolet.

With radio having brought battery chargers into the home, many motorists are using the appliances on their automobile batteries. It is well to remember that too rapid charging of a battery induces a high temperature which damages the plates. The battery never should be allowed to get hotter than 100 degrees. Usually chargers are adjustable as to current input rate.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

I think it would be quite splendid, if our absent friends we defended. From each gossiping word—Where some harm is inferred: In truth and loyalty blended. We with gesture and word—Should refute all we heard—O, yes, loyal friendship is splendid!

Strange to say there are those calling themselves friends who do not agree with this sentiment. They say, "I'm not called upon to get into trouble—fending some one else! It is all I can do to take care of myself." I once heard a young woman say when asked if she would speak up to defend an absent friend from hurtful gossip. "Oh, no, it isn't done here, I'm not sure I would speak up to defend—even mother!"

To be sure if you are seeking popularity you cannot speak out too candidly, even in defense of a friend—especially if that friend chances to be unpopular in the company, you find yourself. It is lovely to have people say kind things to you when alone. It is far more comforting to know they speak words of you in your absence.

Why not acknowledge talent when it is shown by those among us—of "our own people." Even though the person possessing that talent may not be one of our intimate friends, a member of our church, or one who always conforms to our opinions. One who appreciates and admires art, should recognize and at least give it, reasonable recognition, even in those who do not always admire us.

We have called attention to the young cartoonist, who furnished those telling pictures for The Derby and Dollar Day sales. He is young and should be encouraged and helped in any way he may require help to develop his talent. If you can do no more, speak an encouraging word of appreciation to—and for him. Who knows to what lengths of success he may be helped to attain? Encourage home talent.

I have been noting the pretty little verses signed by Miss Rosita Lauffer in the Arlington High School notes. They show delicate traces of poetic thought. Miss Lauffer's parents are themselves so well capable of noting and encouraging this talent genius. In their daughter, they need no help from any outsider, only to whisper to Miss Rosita that her pretty lines are appreciated very much by one who recognizes "that the bird will sing its rarest song, when conscious of a listening ear." I want this sweet singer to know—I heard!

Mr. Koplin's account of his travels in the picturesque and historic parts of our own country given in the M. E. church last Thursday night and the wonderful pictures, illustrating the scenes and places of interest amidst which he had spent years was certainly worthy a larger audience. His films were marvelous and especially were his colored photographs, beyond description, beautiful.

I am sure, while not a critic of such films, yet have I witnessed great numbers of such as are shown on the screen—yet I do know that nothing equal to Mr. Koplin's pictures have been shown in Arlington Heights. Nor do I think those of Burton Holmes' which I have seen, in any way excel them. The limited space for the screen hindered all from seeing the full beauty of the larger pictures.

We are hoping the community may be given the opportunity to see, and duly appreciate those fine wonderful films, showing our national wonderland as it should be seen. So painfully true is Mr. Koplin's comment, noting the meagre numbers in the church that night, "a prophet" is not without honor, save among his own people." Yes, my friend, we are just like that—even in this boasted city of "good neighbors."

It won't be a lie will it if I mention just one more sign of spring? You see, a friend a little farther south, on the banks of the beautiful Kankakee wrote last week of seeing where a snake had shed its skin, his winter overcoat, perhaps if he were head gear, he was out in a straw hat. First time in my life, I ever heard that a snake had shed. But this snake did.

Had the privilege this week of a delightful welcome into the homes of two of my young friends. The new residences of Vera Volz McWharther on North State Road. There I found Vera happily busy with her home making and her two bright children in a beautiful, and substantial seven room brick with an attic with space for two or three more rooms. A home with all the modern equipment and conveniences. A finished basement 45 by 60, where everything is up to date. Linen closets on the hall into which three large sunny bedrooms open. All rooms full of sunlight, in fact, a beautiful and well arranged home. Just the home into which Vera will so happily fit, and where she will make home indeed for her husband and little ones.

Not far south in Mitchel, near South Street is the charming new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Guild. If there is anything in modern utilities not in this home, I don't know where you could find it. Two ample porches, flanked and supported by heavy pillars of brick. A sunny living room, two beautiful airy bedrooms, a white enameled kitchen, shining like a gem. An electric ice box, and beautiful finished walls. Woodwork that is a real work of art in its beautiful satiny finish. And yet this wonderfully pretty house is for sale and since Mr. Bruce Guild has another plan to work out, and he will do it!

Everybody is looking for signs of spring. Down at Pana, last week some one was cackling over the green grass showing on the lawns. Come to Arlington Heights Mr. Pana man and we'll show you lawns where the grass showed up green and bright through the February snows.

Robins? Oh well, they are snoring around to find out all they can about over production of cherries, and the final settlement of Mexican and Central American affairs (I am afraid to undertake the snoring of "Nickeragway.") When cherries ripen they will come in hordes. Just wait.

Come spring's wondrous opening Then will all the robins sing. When the housewives will begin Housecleaning to usher in. Comes the wild geese trumpeting On gray winged "ships" of spring. When the ruddy bonfires glow. Lightens up the tree trunks tall And the March winds rustle, and go Where the caterpillars crawl.

This fill be about all about spring except I know its coming. Personally am eager for it. You see like this: all winter have to wear dingy old winter clothes and a hat that makes me feel just plain uncomfortable as I used to when mother would tie my hood on my head. Good and tight, before I went to school. Yes, I've got some real pretty summer clothes light and cheery, and won't we all be glad to shed our heavy winter coats?

We always knew that Mr. Theodore Miltzer was a gifted musician, with a more than local fame—an educator and lecturer on music, outside our little, too provincial town—but it was just lately we heard of him as a connoisseur of rare and beautiful paintings as well as a producer of some beautiful pictures, that we learned of the greater genius of our honored artist townsman.

Then we have some old seasoned writers in our town not unknown in literary circles, long before Arlington Heights knew, and who may sometimes have felt the force and if I may say the "crush" of Mr. Koplin's so aptly quoted adage "Certainly we have a pronounced connoisseur of music, vocal and instrumental." Those who are privileged to have Mr. Miltzer to teach them appreciation of the best, Miss Hausman, Mr. Reed, Miss Jessie Beardsley Berger, Mrs. Isabel Cuny Oefelein and others of known ability.

In vocal music there are many good singers in our town. In fact some of the rarest vocal talent are not in church choirs and should be sought out and encouraged. We are too prone to form cliques, and groups in these matters and ignore the outsiders. I have not mentioned our church organists of whom Mr. Edward Elfled has all his life shown fine musical ability and to my mind at the pipe organ, he has few equals, even in the great city so near us. And there are other church players of fine talent and skills.

However, I do believe of the three arts, music, painting and literature, or poetry, music is sure, especially in small cities to meet with the greatest recognition. This is perhaps because of its direct appeal to the emotions—an appeal to the heart of humanity that needs not certain courses of culture or training to be appreciated.

It is well to know and appreciate our fine home talent. To encourage and develop it wherever possible. It is well to give honor where honor is due. In art, music, literature and in those who endeavor to build firm and true, the staunch, the noble and self-sacrificing in their own, and the lives of all about them.

All for the young—are we? Yes, in a measure we are, to encourage, to help and to appreciate at the same time let us appreciate the beautiful, the true and good in some who are no longer young, who are yet helpful to all about them and whose lives are as a clear cut gem, or a beautiful song.

Love and sacrifice are the beautiful themes for this time of apostrophe to our Easter season. May we look about us and honor and emulate these traits, wherever we find them in our own town. In this connection, I want to tell you of one who lives a life of loving sacrifice, a life of courage and helpfulness, while suffering from physical handicap—"One of the city of good neighbors—you should know her."

Meet Mrs. Augusta Garland: She is so sunny and so bright—So helpful and so kind; You would not dream she has to fight Grim shadows from her mind.

She cannot move, into the sun Nor walk across the floor, And when her busy day is done Sleep comes not to restore.

Her pain racked body, lame and bent—Relaxes not, in rest; Such constant strain and stress is sent To those she loves the best.

Her little twisted hands reach out To smooth their cares away, With words of cheer she conquers doubt And bids them hope and pray.

Her poor worn hands shame ours so strong, That still accomplish less, While her busy all day long, In deeds of helpfulness.

Weakness and pain she will defy, With courage for the hour; So brave she is, so sure to try To do all in her power.

That one described by Israel's sage Like jewels beyond price—Did not excel one of this age In noble sacrifice.

To household ways—she looketh well, With smiles she meets the morn—Has some bright cheery tale to tell To those sad and forlorn.

Dear friend—so patient to endure, So cheerful and so strong, May your days brighten with the lure Of friendship—love and song.

While I can speak and you can cheer
Dear friend, that you may know,
I send these flowers of love and

MT. PROSPECT

Watch It Grow
F. L. H. LUEDERS, Editor

Tuesday evening our village board held a very interesting session. All trustees were present except Trustee Hass. The clerk read the minutes of the previous meeting as well as the treasurers report, both of which were approved. True it is that our village board is handling the village business and guarding the interests of everyone just as well as they guard their own private interest and it is with pleasure that one can listen to the treasurers report which shows a real business administration.

The tractor matter was referred to the street and sidewalk committee of which John Pohlman is chairman. The village board then took up the pavement matters regarding the new pavements to be put in our village. The public meetings are to be held on the March 14, at the H. Roy Berry Co's office at Wille street and North-west highway.

Engineer Consoer has designed some real paving plans for our village and the plans are worth while following. As laid out they are everything that is required to make our village the real "suburb beautiful" that everyone of us want it to be and that is saying quite a bit. Everyone of us would feel proud to live in the best planned and paved village in the U. S.

Attorney Thal had everything in readiness and will be right on the job as soon as the measures are finally approved.

The new pump house is completed and the pump is set ready to be put in operation as soon as the necessary piping connections are made with the mains. This is a big relief so we need have no further worries as to water. This is just another forerunner on the part of our village trustees who are always protecting our interests.

The local merchants are getting prepared for the spring business and from all indications they anticipate quite an increase in business from now on. In fact when the new business buildings are completed that are to be constituents this year our village will have one of the most rightly business districts to be noticed anywhere along the line.

The Development Association has received another contract to build a home in Buses eastern addition for a Mr. Zicklenbrack on lot 4 in block 22. This means another home added to our growing list for 1927.

The local real estate operators are having quite a bit of success in putting Mt. Prospect on the map in their recent campaigns, this is pleasant for us as it will bring us an increased population which we are pleased to have.

Fred Schaeffer is still confined to his bed at the Palatine hospital but we are getting reports that he is progressing nicely and we hope he will be back home in time for the spring plowing so that our gardens may again be plowed when we need them.

In our next weeks issue we hope to be able to tell you some real facts about one of our new business buildings that is about to be constructed and one that will be a real credit to our village.

We still have a few auto owners who have not secured their 1927 vehicle tag and we are told that they had their last chance as no excuses will be accepted by the chief. If you drive your car now without the necessary vehicle tag, you had better be careful and save yourself considerable trouble.

We are indeed pleased to note the building activity we understand two new business buildings will soon be under construction.

The Lonnquist people put on a sale last Sunday on their Prospect Manor properties and from our understanding sold quite a number of lots. We hope that several homes will be built on this property this season.

Mrs. Israel and Mrs. Jahneke are both back home and are enjoying their homes very much after the stay at the hospital. It is mighty nice to come home all well and enjoy your health after not having it for sometime.

Our village band is hard at it. Some of the players are doing everything possible to promote the band to a high standard so that when called upon they will be ready to render service.

The Chief of Police is a busy man and you can see him continually on the go every hour he is on duty, which is quite sometime.

There are some rather queer rumors going around now that have caused some persons considerable worry and it would be wise for everybody to stop these if they are brought to their attention. Let it better be unsaid than to start rumors that such and such a thing is going to happen, unless you are sure you know the truth of the matter.

Two speeding automobiles were the cause of a collision and injury to two people last week. Our motorists should forget about speed and travel along at a gate in which they do not injure themselves and possibly other people. Record show that in 1926, 22,800 persons were killed by autos and about 700,000 were injured. Approximately 15,000 of the 1926 victims were pedestrians and of that number 6,000 were under 15 years of age. C. E. Robb statistician of the National Safety Council states that the 1926 motor toll will be eclipsed unless the American people are more careful and cautious, automobile accidents will take 25,000 lives in 1927 unless more rigid observance of the laws is maintained. He also said, Mr. Motorist do you realize it is up to you to be careful and help cut down this great figure of lives lost thru auto accidents. Be careful all of the time when driving your car not only sometime. Is it any wonder that insurance rates were increased.

EAST MAINE

Mrs. Harold Elliott of Riverside, Ill., spent Feb. 23 in East Maine visiting the school and calling on friends here. Mrs. Elliott will be remembered as Miss Egan, who for four years was the efficient teacher in the primary room of the public school.

Little Heinie Koch is another scarlet fever victim, while the Wm. Kreft home is also under quarantine. The school nurses are working hard to try to check the epidemic and prevent its spreading, but they need the co-operation of everyone in the community to make their work and precautions successful. Every care should be taken to guard against colds and sickness especially at this season of the year.

St. Matthews Ladies will have their next meeting Thursday March 10, at 7:30 in the school hall. Hostesses at this meeting will be Mrs. Gust Loeding, Mrs. Wm. R. Moeller and Mrs. Hans Poehls.

Mrs. Paul Sonn of Fond du Lac spent last week-end at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. Toepel where she visited her son Lester.

Several of the young folks of this vicinity attended the performance of the "Fortune Hunter," the play presented by the DesPlaines Post of the American Legion Monday and Tuesday. The play was remarkably well given and very much enjoyed by all who attended.

"Variety." Keynote of Successful Entertainment Given by St. Matthews Lutheran Choir

The truth of the old saying, "Variety is the spice of life," was again verified and proved by the successful entertainment sponsored by St. Matthews Lutheran choir at St. Matthews hall Feb. 25 and 27. Using that maxim as a basis they worked out a well balanced program which was enthusiastically received by the crowds attending and enjoyed by all.

The program opened with music by East Maine's popular orchestra, for although all of members of the orchestra are not choir members, the choir feel that their entertainment would not be complete without the splendid music and greatly appreciate the whole-hearted co-operation and assistance of these home talent musicians.

There were several musical numbers on the program consisting of two songs by the entire choir, beautiful selections and both well given; two comical duets, one entitled "Die Rivalen" in which two ardent serenaders meet and very nearly come to blows thru a misunderstanding caused by the fact that their sweetheart's names are similar to each other of course.

One may safely guess that the tangle is straightened out finally to the satisfaction of all concerned. The other duet, "Moderne Dienstboten" dealt with the trials of a housewife in hiring a maid, thru which experience she learned that the girls of today were, generally speaking, a decided contrast to the girls of years ago. A male quartet sang two numbers in very pleasing manner and were highly applauded.

Then there were the three plays each clever in its own way and the plot of each carried out and portrayed in splendid style. The German play, "Erna Will Heiraten" was the story of a countess who thru her fondness for fiction and romance, sought to marry a chauffeur against her parents wishes. Their plans to open her eyes to the real character of her chosen Romeo led to many ludicrous actions on the part of the chauffeur who was really far below the countess in manners, education and every respect.

"The Whole Truth" really carries with it a moral of, "Be yourself," for in this play, practically everybody was pretending to be some one other than himself, but after a wish was made that everybody speak "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth," the deceptions were discovered, the puzzles regarding identities were satisfactorily solved, and everything ended in a blaze of happiness.

Another clever little dialog, "His Last Two Dollars" disclosed the troubles of an army lieutenant whose earthly fortune had dwindled to the sum of $2.00 and who was constantly finding himself in hot water and ticklish propositions due to the carelessness and ignorance of a blundering though well meaning private.

The last number on the program "The Country Dentist" was a shadow picture of a country dentist performing the task of extracting three large molars from a suffering patient. The realistic appearance of this act was great and more than one in the crowd were seen to raise their hand to their faces as if to ward off the dangerous looking tools employed by the dentist.

Time and space do not permit a more lengthy report of the program nor individual mention of the players taking part, but let it suffice to say that each did his best and the reward was another success, both socially and financially, to be added to their list of annual entertainments.

WHEELING

Guy Wilson is back on the job as motor policeman, after a two months furlough.

The Casey Brown family are back in Wheeling having moved into Mrs. Pasternak's residence on Dundee road.

Mrs. Albert Utpedal Sr., has been spending several days at Le-mont where she helped her sister and brother-in-law celebrate their golden wedding anniversary last Saturday.

Miss Fritz Wick started to school again on Tuesday after having been absent for a month because of sickness.

Mrs. A. Wiegand is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Tesch, while the Schuessler family with whom she lives in Chicago, are moving.

A delegation of Wheeling Camp R. N. A. enjoyed a birthday party given by Deerfield Camp last Thursday evening in honor of their fifteenth anniversary.

Both old and young enjoyed the "Old Time Dance" given in the Union Hall on Tuesday evening. The large hall was crowded with guests responding to the invitations handed out by the committee, and all voted the affair an entire success.

Mrs. John Meyer is spending this week with her son in Elmhurst.

The old timers and a lot of the new timers had a big time Wednesday night at Union hall when the old time dances were enjoyed. The favors were carnations and roses provided for everybody. There was a big crowd, the hall being filled with merry makers. This was purely a social affair. There were no money making plans connected with it. Candy and apples were the refreshments. These get together social gatherings are always enjoyed by the Wheeling people.

A fire on the old Midway farm occupied by Mr. Kesso on Milwaukee ave., north of Wheeling at 9:15 Wednesday night resulted in the destruction of part of a roof of the residence. The Wheeling fire department was at the scene within five minutes of being called and extinguished the blaze by the use of chemicals.

Mrs. Margaret Godknecht is very sick at her home.

Mrs. Minnie Beckman fell and sprained her right arm very badly.

Mrs. L. M. Kuebler is able to be around after her serious illness.

Mrs. Henry Deverman and Mrs. Herman Gieseler contained the basketball team and coach at a dinner Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Deverman.

Mr. and Mrs. Brockman were surprised at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Schroeder in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

About forty enjoyed the party. They received many beautiful gifts.

The Palatine Lions club will be host to the basketball squad of the high school Tuesday evening Mar. 8, at 6:15 at the M. E. church.

The boys have made a great showing this year and the grown up boys of the Lions club are going to give them a "roaring" welcome and plenty to eat Tuesday evening.

Some new and added features will be on the program. The ladies are left at home this time and from what we hear the boys of today and the boys of yesterday are going to gather around the table in one big "kids" meeting where everyone will have a good time.

Every Lion should be sure to be there.
